HANCOCK, LANCE LOUIS, mortgage loan originator, Eagle Mountain, Utah. The client was not aware of Mr. Hancock's actions in this matter. The title company closed the loan and the client was without hazard insurance for two days. The mortgage lender had relied on a policy having been issued prior to closing. Mr. Hancock admits that his actions violated Utah law in that he made a false statement and caused a false document to be generated to induce a lender to extend credit in a residential mortgage loan transaction and that he had engaged in an act in transacting the business of residential mortgage loans that constitutes dishonesty, fraud, or misrepresentation. Mr. Hancock agreed that his mortgage loan originator license be immediately revoked, that he be banned for life from applying for a mortgage loan originator license in the State of Utah, and that he would update his answers in the NMLS to reflect this regulatory action.
